Streetcar Named Desire is its "essential conflict between illusion and reality", a theme that manifests itself in the confrontational relationship between the characters of Blanche Dubois and her brother-in-law Stanley Kowalski.

An exploration of the tension between illusion and reality

The vibrant and luckless Blanche DuBois arrives on a streetcar named "Desire" to inhabit the cramped and close quarters of her sister Stella and her husband, Stanley Kowalski. Blanche's duplicitous nature makes for an intriguing character study. The quiet and reserved Stella is the complete opposite of her sister.
