In November, Facebook launched Beacon, a system (discontinued in September 2009) where third-party websites could include a script by Facebook on their sites, and use it to send information about the actions of Facebook users on their site to Facebook, prompting serious privacy concerns. Information such as purchases made and games played were published in the user's news feed.

Digital marketing is going to change drastically in 2019. And sadly, you aren't going to like a lot of the changes. And no, I don't mean change from a competition standpoint. You already know that each year marketing gets more expensive and more competitive. That's just a given. Just look at the graph above: that's [â€]

The influence of social media platforms and technology companies is having a greater effect on American journalism than even the shift from print to digital. There is a rapid takeover of traditional publishers' roles by companies including Facebook, Snapchat, Google, and Twitter that shows no sign of slowing, and which raises serious questions over how the costs of journalism will be supported.
