journey offers them. Many start out not knowing what they are getting themselves in to. When they arrived at our first stop in Brinnon, they were worn out but still enthusiastic. It didn't take long before they were excitedly reporting to me, that they got to be the lead puller or that they were chosen for protocol speaker at the landing.

us to "Count Our Blessings", not just during this Thanksgiving season, but all 365 days of the year. In these first five verses, David reminds us of five wonderful blessings we should be thankful for; and from each of these five blessings flows thousands of other blessings into our lives.

One easy way to get started on a gratitude practice is to make a habit of counting your blessings both morning and night. You don't even have to write them down, as in a gratitude journal, if that seems too overwhelming.

We start using the term "that doesn't matter." And if we are not very careful, we will start saying,
"well, I don't quite believe it that way." That is a dangerous statement. The longer I am saved; I realize how saying that is so dangerous. God checked me the other day.
